A BIT MORE DETAIL

On Friday 26th July beef specialists Chomp & local breweries Ashley Down and Wiper and True will be hosting a summer evening of burgers, beer and music at the mysterious Bosoco. Set in the hinterlands of St Werburghs this is a venue that feels like a salvage yard with a bar and dining area that have just risen from the clutter, and the owner decided to leave it where it is.

Exquisite burgers and the famous house fries will be served from the vintage Chomp truck from 6:00pm. A wonderful array of traditional ales and craft beers will be served up at the bar by Ashley Down Brewery and Wiper and True. And not just their own lovingly created brews, they are curating the evening's drinks and bringing in some of their personal favourites from other breweries around the country. You can look forward to the likes of Moor Beer, the Wild Beer Company and the Kernel to name a few.

INFORMATION ABOUT THE HOSTS

You may recognize the beautiful Chomp truck, a classic 1972 Citroen H Van, from Temple Meads station or Cathedral Walk where it griddles up 28-day dry-aged Angus & Hereford hamburgers and steaks. Quality and flavour are the watchwords here. Chomp are on a mission to Bring Great Beef to the People; dropping their perfect patties in fresh baked demi-brioche buns and giving you something you can really believe in: Burger Religion.

Ashley Down Brewery is a microbrewery run from a large garage near St Andrews Park. They brew the finest classic British ales in a traditional manner, and supply a handful of the finest pubs in town. They'll be serving up cask beer and some specialist bottles.

Wiper and True is a Bristol-based gypsy brewery that borrows existing breweries to cook up deliciously moreish craft beers. Renting equipment when it's not being used, they take their own ingredients and recipes in to brew up fresh, hop-forward and unusual beers and sell them around Bristol. Wiper and True will be launching a new Amber Ale called In the Groves on the night and will have their latest single hopped Pale Ale Amarillo both on tap.

The venue is Bosoco, a curious extravaganza of bits and bobs. Its run by Pete Chapman, an ex salvage merchant who seems to have a penchant for keeping what he's found. There is a large dining room covered in vines, ornamental plates everywhere, a lot of unrecognizable objects and just for good measure, a large boat.

The venue has two indoor seating areas and plenty of outside seating and wandering space. Set aside to the bar and seating area there is a dance floor where music will be a steady feature all evening.
